Pipes & hoses for slurry, cooling and bentonite

A costly aspect in pipejacking and microtunnelling, especially for long distance.

A costly aspect in pipejacking and microtunnelling, especially for long distance, are the various pipes needed for slurry circuit-, machine cooling- and bentonite lubrication- lines & hoses.

We try to optimise the type and quality of the pipes as per the client's budget and strategy and have frequent availability of used lines as well.

- Supply of slurry hoses and pipes
- Supply of bentonite hoses and pipes
- Supply of air hoses and pipes
- Supply of cooling hoses and pipes
- Supply of hydraulic hoses
- We also supply the required telescopic pipes that are used when intermediate interjacking stations are needed.
